HEROIC LINCOLN STATUES IN BRONZE

Editor Note: On November 19, 1961 the heroic bronze statue "Lincoln and Tad" was unveiled on the Iowa State Capitol grounds at Des Moines, Iowa. This statue was sculptored by Fred M. Torrey and Mabel L. Torrey and is the eighty-first Lincoln Study to be unveiled. From time to time Lincoln Lore has featured a numerical list of bronze Lincoln statues, giving date of dedication, sculptor and place. As several Lincoln statues have been erected since the last list was published it is thought appropriate to bring the compilation up to date with illustrated cuts of the last four Lincoln statues unveiled.

BOY SCOUT PILGRIMAGES TO LINCOLN STATUES

Editor's Note: Every year since 1934 the Lincoln National Life Foundation has made attractive certificates available to Boy Scouts throughout the United States who visit Lincoln statues on the Sixteenth President's birthday. Hundreds of thousands of these certificates have been distributed during the twenty-nine year period and interest in the Boy Scout pilgrimages has never waned. The attendance award for 1962 featured the heroic bronze statue of Merrell Gage entitled "Lincoln The Student" which is located on the campus of Lincoln College at Lincoln, Illinois. As most Lincoln Lore subscribers have never seen these 6" x 8" certificates, they are being reproduced in the bulletin for the first time.
